When I look around, I see many of my friends navigating the same mid-mothering identity crisis. Women who before they had kids lived for their careers, but now that they are back into it and trying to juggle it, they realise they just aren't the same person anymore.

Motherhood identity crisis: One mum's personal experience.

According to anthropologist Maurice Godelier, a critical novelty in human society, compared to humans' closest biological relatives (chimpanzees and bonobos), is the parental role assumed by the males, which were unaware of their "father" connection.. In many cultures, especially traditional western, a father is usually the husband in a married couple.
